FEEHAN MAY RESIGN IN INTEREST OF HARMONY

Effort to Heal Breach May Cause President to Retire

COMMITTEE TO DECIDE

Quarrel in Pittsburg District of Much Concern to International Officials

When the sub-committee, appointed by the International Executive Board of United Mine Workers of America makes its report today at Pittsburg, some sensational developments are looked for in the miners' dispute in the Pittsburg district between the Feehan and Gibbons factions. The International Executive Committee, has been in session in Pittsburg for nearly three weeks past, in an effort to harmonize the warring factions, and when it adjourned Saturday evening it voted to refer the entire case to a sub-committee of three fits members for a review of the evidence, with instructions to report Tuesday. The committee of three consists of a representative of the miners, William Diamond of Michigan and H. Harrison of Alabama.

While the plan of action which the sub-committee is expected to recommend is not of course known, it is thought by some who have kept close tab on the situation that President Feehan of the Pittsburg district may resign in the interests of harmony, on conditions that the Gibbons faction, which has attempted to set up an independent organization, also ceases its efforts and returns to the parent organization. While President Feehan is the undoubted choice of the majority of the miners of the district, the opposition of the Gibbons faction has grown to such proportions that a serious breach is threatened in the organization. As a new scale is to be signed next spring, the miners organization cannot well approach the operators with the Pittsburg district all disrupted, which is in reality the backbone of the organization, in view of the immense mining operations here.

For that reason President Feehan may resign, provided the Gibbons faction will return to the fold and cease to press its claims. Mr. Feehan has been vindicated in his actions in the affair and fully exonerated of all charges made against him by the warring faction, but in the interests of harmony he may step down and out. While this will be regretted exceedingly by his multitude of friends in the district, the near approach of the time when a new scale is to be signed renders heroic measures imperative if the Pittsburg district is to present an unbroken front to the operators. The situation has become so grave that the international officials are said to be much concerned over it and are therefore bending every effort to harmonize the differences before the next annual convention.

In case President Feehan resigns it is probable that a commission may be appointed to look after the executive affairs of the district until a new president is elected. It is stated that if Feehan resigns neither he nor Gibbons are to be candidates for president at the next district election.

Aged Woman An Impostor

Slips Away From Relatives and Begs for Alms From Residents

The Mail has been requested to warn the people of Charleroi of an impostor who is asking for charity where it is not needed. This is said to be an aged woman living in a nearby community who, unknown to her relatives, has been begging from door to door in the hill district. Her aged appearance and decrepitness makes her an object of pity, and she is said to have played her role quite successfully. Investigation, however, revealed the fact that the woman has relatives who care for her, and that she slips away and begs unknown to them. The people are warned not to give her anything, and to report her to the town officials.

MOTHER FRANTIC

Sees Babe Drown and Cannot Rescue Little One

BODY RECOVERED LATER

Helpless on the river bank, Mrs. Henry Todesko, of Monongahela whose husband was one of the victims of the Marianna mine disaster, saw her three-year-old child swallowed up by the murky waters of the Monongahela river Monday afternoon.

The baby and a brother six years old, were on a raft in the river. Mrs. Todesko apprehensively watched her babies, while her husband, who operates the ferry at Eleventh street, rowed a passenger to the opposite shore.

Suddenly the raft tilted. The baby was thrown into the water. Cries from her brought the step-father toward the raft as fast as the craft could be propelled. Four men restrained the frantic mother from plunging into the river and she was insane from grief. At the time of the Marianna disaster it was with difficulty that the woman whose husband was killed was prevented from leaping into the shaft.

The body of the baby was recovered two hours later.

In Honor of St. Anthony.

The ceremony of the worshiping of St. Anthony will be observed at the Mother of Sorrows Italian Catholic church, corner of Sixth street and Fallowfield avenue at 7:30 o'clock this evening. Rev. Maselli of Monongahela will preach a sermon on St. Anthony.

Mrs. T. P. Sloan has returned from Mt. Clemens, Mich., where she spent several weeks for the benefit of her health.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK NOW DOING BUSINESS

Six Depositors Register Up to 11 O'clock - Largest Sum is $100 - System Simple and Easy to Understand

With no flourish of trumpets or acclaim of preparation, the postal savings department was opened at the Charleroi postoffice this morning. The system was installed as quietly and as easily as specie payments were resumed back in the seventies, which many statesmen declared was an impossible proposition, notwithstanding the oft repeated declaration of the late Horace Greeley that the only way to resume was to resume. Many wise men have contended that the postal savings bank was an impossible proposition, but Postmaster McCordle is here to show one and all that it exists, and that private banking institutions might look over the system to advantage.

All that was necessary to install the system was the receipt of the necessary books, envelopes, blank certificates, saving cards and a few other accessories. These, with the application of ordinary intelligence in the matter of simple accounting, were all that was necessary, and lo! the postal bank is established. Postmaster McCordle and his assistants are here to receive money and credit it, and to charge up the interest month by month, and that is all there is to it.

By 11 o'clock six deposits had been received, the smallest of which was $2 and largest of which was $100. Those wishing to become depositors are given an envelope on which the name, age and other information necessary are inscribed. On the back is blank space for crediting deposits and withdrawals. Blank certificates in denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100 are furnished, and the depositor receives these in exchange for the money, which are kept in the envelope, and serves as a bank book. A duplicate envelope is also kept at the office.

Deposit cards bearing a 10 cent stamp can also be purchased, and when nine other ten cent stamps are affixed these can be deposited as $1 and an account opened. These cards are for the benefit of children who save their pennies in order to start and carry on a banking account.

The method of accounting is very simple. Interest starts on the first of the succeeding month after the deposit is made. Deposits made now will commence to draw interest from the first of next month. It is easy to understand, and it is expected that the system will prove a popular one in Charleroi.

INVITE KNIGHTS FROM CHARLEROI

Pittsburg Knights of Columbus to Observe Natal Day With Banquet

Charleroi Council No. 956, Knights of Columbus, have received invitations from the Pittsburg Council to be present at the annual banquet of the latter in commemoration of Columbus Day, October 1. This is to be held at the Hotel Schenley, and will be an event of State wide importance in the annals of the order. The roster of speakers for the occasion contains some eminent names, among whom are Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, one of the most noted orators in the Catholic clergy in this country, Governor J. K. Tener, W. H. Carmody, supreme deputy knight of the order, Dr. Jas J. Walsh of New York, and Congressman Ben Johnson of Kentucky.

It is probable that a large delegation of the local Knights of Columbus will make arrangements to attend the banquet.

NEXT FRIDAY IS JEWISH NEW YEAR

Season Will Be Observed With Great Solemnity by All Hebrews

With all the solemnity characteristic of Hebrew services the Jewish New Year will be ushered in promptly at sundown Friday. Surrounded by their families, heads of households will wend their way to synagogues to participate in the observance, which differs entirely from any other on the calendar. Those who live in towns without places of worship observe the holiday in a personal way.

While "Rosh Hashona," as the New Year is called, is one of feasting, no levity whatever is indulged in. The services consist mainly of chants and prayers, led by the cantor. The members of the synagogue, clad in flowing white robes, repeat the chants in hushed voices. At the Shaare Torah Synagogue, Townsend street, Pittsburg, the oldest in Western Pennsylvania, services will be conducted by Rabbi M. S. Sivitz, who for the past 24 years has acted in that capacity. The New Year, according to the Jewish calendar, is 5672.

George D. Clark and children visited Brownsville Monday.

MANY DIVORCE CASES IN COURT

Thirteen Listed on Argument List to Come for Hearing Today

On the argument list, which will be heard this week in the county court at Washington, beginning this morning, there are already thirteen divorce actions. This number will be increased, as the testimony in other suits were presented to the court on Monday at motion and rule court.

Divorce suits already on the argument list are these: Walker M. Henderson vs. Mary E. Henderson; Bessie Miller vs. John E. Miller; Nellie Beatty vs. Perry Beatty; Helen Boyer vs. Chas. W. Boyer; Ethel Blyston vs. Irwin Blyston; David Theodore Hilt vs. Flora D. Hilt; Martha A. Smith vs. S. S. Smith; Kate Behling vs. Frank Behling; Lyda M. Wise vs. Frank Wise; Mattie Virginia Ellis vs. Charles Victor Ellis; Julia Bodner vs. John Bodner; Cora Lang vs. Joseph Lang; Conrad Hilt vs. Catherine Hilt, and Roxanna Patterson vs. Louis Patterson.

STATE TO INSPECT COUNTY HOMES

Department Orders Demented Ones to Be Rounded Up and Cared For

Investigation of all county homes which house insane inmates without authority to do so has been ordered by the Committee on Lunacy of the State Board of Charities at their last quarterly meeting. This is regarded as one of the most important steps toward bettering the condition of the insane which has been taken for some time.

A half dozen county homes say the members of the board have inmates of unsound mind, although legally they have no right to harbor such persons. These inmates are continued in these homes because the crowded conditions of the state hospitals or other reasons make it impracticable to send them elsewhere.

The plan of the Committee on Lunacy is to make a thorough investigation and ascertain the exact conditions. Efforts will be made to have the almshouses in question brought under the county care act so that everything may be done in conformity with law.

INSPECTORS AWAITING ORDERS FROM STATE

Uses Gun; Man Dying

Monon Officer Shoots Man Who Resisted Arrest and Then Flees

As the result of a shooting affray at Hazelkirk Sunday evening William Presto is in the Mercy hospital at Pittsburg in a dying condition and Constable Fred Sellman of Monongahela who did the shooting escaped and is still at large.

The trouble occurred at a boarding house during the progress of a wedding. Constable Sellman attempted to arrest Presto when the latter resisted. Sellman it is stated pulled his revolver and shot Presto through the body. Sellman is said to have at once disappeared and the wounded man was hurried to the hospital.

Word received from the hospital Monday evening was to the effect that Presto would die and a warrant was sworn out for Sellman's arrest.

SHE SUES FOR DOWER

Woman Didn't Sign Deed and Wants Share of Property Now

INTERESTS AFFECTED

Elizabeth Dague has instituted a rather peculiar suit in the county court at Washington against William C. Ghemp and the Ellsworth Colliery company. She sues for her widow's dower in a tract of land in East Bethlehem township, now in the possession of the defendants.

In 1895 her husband, A. J. Dague, who has since died, conveyed a tract of land in trust for his creditors to H. B. Dague. In June, 1896, H. B. Dague sold the land to Wm. Ghemp. Ghemp sold the coal under the land to another person and that person in turn sold the coal to the colliery company.

The ground on which Mrs. Dague bases her suit is that she did not join in the deed by which the land was conveyed to H. B. Dague and that she never barred her right to her dower interest in the land. She therefore asks that an accounting be made and that she be given her interest, one-third, and the rents and profits from the time the land was disposed of by her husband. This will require close judgment and the decree will be watched for with interest.

Fixing the Street.

The Pittsburg Street Railway has a large force of men at work repairing the street between and on each side of their track on McKean avenue. They started the work between Fourth and Fifth streets, and will make repairs all along the line. Since the installation of the heavy interurban cars the tracks have sunk below the level in many places, and council served notice on the company to make the repairs.

Plans Under Way for Medical Examination of Pupils

SYSTEM IS OPTIONAL

Districts Must Indicate Their Choice Each Year Before August 1st

As soon as Health Commissioner Dixon complete his arrangements, the Charleroi school board, which voted to have medical inspection in the public schools will receive instructions how to proceed, and will at once start in on the work. As previously noted the physicians selected by the board to make the inspection are Dr. J. K. Smith for the Fifth street school, Dr. F. C. Stahlman the Ninth street school, Dr. Edwin McKay the Second street school and Dr. H. J. Repman, the Crest avenue school.

Advices from Harrisburg are to the effect that in addition to the personal inspection the physicians will also make a thorough investigation of the sanitary conditions existing at the schools. The medical inspector will be instructed to note the age and sex of the pupil, the condition of sight, hearing, respiration, skin, teeth, cervical glands, contagious diseases, pulmonary tuberculosis and deformities. Each eye will be tested separately, using Shellen's chart at 20 feet. The presence of blepharitis, conjunctivitis, iritis or trachoma or any affection of the cornea will be observed.

Each ear will likewise be tested separately for accuracy of hearing by whispering also at 20 feet, the distance at which the whisper is heard being used as the numerator and the distance at which it should be heard given as the denominator of the fraction. Defective teeth and nasal breathing will be noted.

If indications of present or recent contagious disease are found, note will be made of the fact and the exclusion of the child and its brothers and sisters at once ordered. Under no circumstances will the medical inspector advise as to the selection of a physician or communicate with the family of a pupil personally with regard to the results of the examination reports to the family being made directly from the department.

Upon receiving the reports at the central bureau in Harrisburg, the chief medical inspector and his assistants will go over them very carefully and letters will be written to the parents of children in whom physical defects have been found, calling attention to these defects and suggesting that the child be taken to the family physician for a more detailed examination and treatment.

It is stated that inspections will be made in 785 school districts throughout the State, which includes approximately 250,000 children. Those districts which did not decide the question previous to August 1 will be obliged to have the medical inspection according to the provisions of the new school code.

Six Fined for Fighting.

LEADER NOT BOSS.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania

may hope for success at the next general election by seeing to it that only
proper candidates are named for the
offices to be filled at the coming primary contests," is a recent statement

credited to United States Senator
Boies Penrose, the Pennsylvania Republican leader. Senator Penrose confirms that the successful party in the state must keep in close touch with

the voters and he argues that the best
way to satisfy and attract the voters
is to provide them with the best possible material in the way of party
nominees.

That is exactly what Senator Pen-
rose is aiming to do in Philadelphia.
During the enforced absence of Senator Penrose at the extra session of Congress some of his Philadelphia
friends assumed to dictate the policy
of the Philadelphia Republicans and name as candidates for the several Philadelphia offices selfish individuals
who did not appeal properly to the people of that city. This arrangement
was by no means satisfactory to Senator Penrose and upon the adjournment of Congress he returned home,
asked the people to indicate their
choice for the important offices and
then threw his force and influence as
the people suggested. Every paper
in Philadelphia is back of Senator
Penrose in this particular fight and
the success of the candidates he has approved seems certain.

It is apparent that Senator Pen-
rose has determined to reform the Republican party from inside its own
lines which will guarantee the success of the party and the promotion
of Republican principles. Each day
the people of Pennsylvania are becoming more convinced that Senator
Penrose is a leader and not a boss.

WHAT MAKES NEWSPAPERS.

The Washington Observer celebrated its 40th anniversary on Monday
by the issue of a special edition of 25
pages in two sections. The Observer
which is one of the most successful
and influential newspapers of Western Pennsylvania, has attained its present standing during the past ten years. Up to time of the organization of the present publishing company the paper spent 30 years in a

more or less strenuous struggle for existence although it performed a
worthy mission in its sphere of newspaper existence. When the present
company was organized the paper had
a daily circulation of about 1,500.
Now it prints and circulates 8,500
daily. The cause of the steady
growth was the expenditure of ample capital, backed by unremitting and untiring effort. Today the Observer
has a plant worth perhaps approximately $150,000, which gives some
idea of the cost and investment
necessary to publish even a successful country newspaper.

The Mail is often criticised for its
lack of facilities, and compared with
the Washington Observer, and the question asked, "Why cannot you get
out a newspaper like the Observer?" by those who know nothing about the business. To these we would say: Ten years ago, after a 30 year existence the Washington Observer (in our opinion) was not making near the showing that the Mail
is now, and did not have as large a circulation. A capitalization of $110,- 000 with every dollar paid in and
available in the making of a newspaper works wonders, but even then
the progress of a newspaper is of slow growth. With all this capital
and the results it could bring, it has taken the Observer ten years to increase its sphere of influence and action less than six-fold.

This however, does not detract
from the present standing of the Observer nor the excellence of its special
edition, and the Mail congratulates
its contemporary on its success.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Snickering in church is about as
bad an offense as talking out loud in school.

Those people who have been wearing vests the year around will soon
have to put on sweaters and overcoats. Later in the year they will need to add a few comforts and a pair of
felt boots.

Because a candidate makes an active canvass and everybody tells
him they will vote for him is no sure
sign he is going to be elected.

Disappointments come easier after
a man has run for office a few times.

It is better to keep quiet than talk
foolish.

The biggest fool in the world is the one who thinks he never makes a
fool of himself.

There are just two excuses why
people don't pay their bills promptly.
One is because they can't, and the
other which really overshadows the
former is that they don't want to.

Our opinion of some of the Con-
gressman's speeches is that they were deucedly annoying.

Unless a man can learn to pronounce "r" with a roll of the tongue
and without the grating sound, he
can never hope to attain fame as an
orator in the House of Representatives.

Orators shine principally in just
two places—when they become lo-
quacious at the club room or at the State house. The power is about the same at both places, although the incentive widely differs.

There is a possibility that a number of towns will get all mixed up with this new election law and it will take
a brand new election law to straighten
the mess out—and tangle it all over again.

A clerkship or even a job as man-
ipulator of the broom is not to be laughed at nowadays.

ishes both the death rate and sickness."

"How do you account for it?" the doctor was asked.

"All a matter of eating," was the reply. "During hard times people
eat less and consume plainer food.
Three-fourths of all the sickness is
caused by eating too much or im-
proper things at improper times.
When people don't have the money
to spend for nicnacs and fancy things
to eat and to pamper their appetites,
and eat to live, instead of living to
eat, they have less sickness and live
longer. A plain diet and regular meals sparingly eaten cuts down
business for both the doctors and the
undertakers."

"Not many hobos on this division
of the Pennsylvania now," said J.
A. Henderson of the Pennsylvania
Railroad secret service, yesterday.
"They all seem to be working their way along the Lake Erie lines. I am told that hordes of them beat their
way over the various lines to the
convention of hobos at Washington,
D. C. At all events there are not many on this division, and we have
not had many robberies of any
consequence lately."

Inquiries in other directions shows
the absence of many tramps in this
section, although a number of burglaries have occurred in the near-by
towns and some in Charleroi lately.
Indications, however, point to the operation of one or two individuals
covering the whole series.

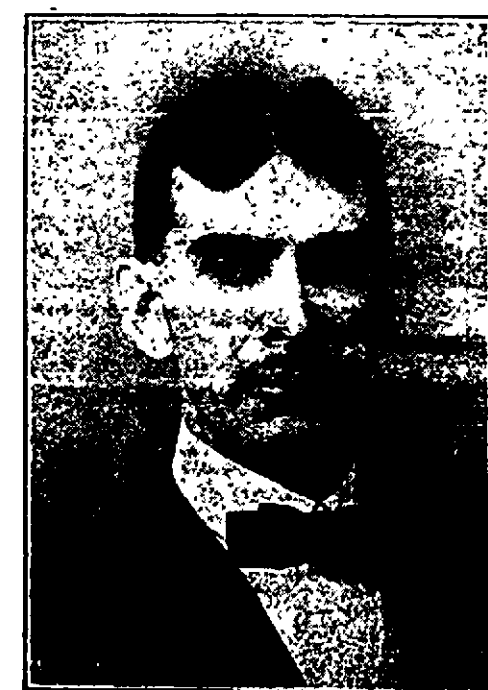

"I wish you would say something

in the paper about people fastening
their door and windows nights, particularly the latter," said Chief of Police C. W. Albright, Monday, when
the burglary of Sunday morning was
the topic of conversation. "By leaving windows unfastened and doors
unlocked people invite burglars and sneak thieves to operate. In my opinion it is this neglect that tempts
boys in particular to make the attempt. Now when there seems to be an epidemic of burglaries in all the surrounding towns people should exercise every precaution and not make
it easy for thieves to enter their
homes."

Great Writer Not Fond of Music.
Dr. Johnson was among those who had no high opinion of music. He admitted that "if he had learnt
music he should have been afraid he
would have done nothing else but
play," but explained that "it was a method of employing the mind without
the labor of thinking at all and with some applause for a man's self." He also confessed that "he knew a drum
from a trumpet and a bagpipe from a
guitar which was about the extent of
his knowledge of music."

Honey in Woman's Hat.
An abandoned peach basket hat
was left at a farmhouse at Kingston,
N. Y., by a summer boarder a year
ago, which the farmer's children
mounted on a fence post and quite forgot. When they came upon it in the course of their romps the other day they tried to take it down. A
swarm of wild bees was found in it,
and the farmer has 12 pounds of
honey to sell. Almost any humorist
can find material in this.

USEFUL ABOUT THE HOUSE

Ammonia Cleans Clothing and Paint and is Good for Numerous Other Purposes.

In housekeeping ammonia has many uses. It is an efficient help about the wardrobe. Black material, sponged with a cupful of water in which a teaspoonful of ammonia has been mixed, will renew its freshness, while black silk will lose its objectionable shininess by such a sponging. A little ammonia will remove grease from collars, and when rubbed over corsets will cleanse them to a nicety. When mixed with equal parts of turpentine, ammonia will remove paint stains from cloth. If the paint is stubborn it may require several applications before the work is done. Persevere. Nothing is so good for boys' tweed suits as to sponge them with the ammonia mixture. For toilet use, a small quantity will soften the water in which the hair is washed and aid in cleansing the scalp. It renders the bath delightful, and carpets, when thoroughly gone over with ammonia and water, are surprisingly restored to something like their original freshness. When mixed with white wax and turpentine it makes the best of polishes for the floor. To relieve the pain and prevent inflammation resulting from the bites and stings of summer insects ammonia ranks first as a cure.

A Moving Land.

One of the broad slopes of Mont Gringuez, France, is reported to have become detached from its foundations, and to have moved over a distance of nearly a quarter of a mile, carrying with it the soil, meadows and woods, and covering up in its passage roads and bridges that stood in the way. A chestnut grove has traveled 500 feet without suffering any apparent damage, but many small lakes have been formed by the damming of the waters. —Scientific American.

This is the Pledge That Downer Made

"That if nominated and elected to the office of County Treasurer, I promise the people a capable and efficient administration, based on sound business principals, conducted solely in the interest of the taxpayers. I will deposit all funds coming into my care to the best advantage of the county, and will furnish my own bond. I will make no effort to influence the County Commissioners in their efforts to arrive at an equitable adjustment of the treasurer's compensation, and will conduct the office in the event of my success, as a trustee of the people, serving them, in every instance with faithfulness and fidelity."

Downer Led the Way

Others may follow, but the taxpayers know that DOWNER is the man whose progressive platform has made certain a satisfactory administration of the County Treasurer's office.

Republican Primaries, Saturday, Sept. 30.

Looked Easy to Him.
Graydon's father is dead, and the child, hearing other children talk of their fathers, began to importune his mother for "another papa." Mamma tried to explain that she couldn't conveniently grant this wish, at the moment, but Graydon didn't consider any of the suggested reasons adequate. "It ought to be easy enough, mamma, with so many loose men all around!"

China's Exports of Tin.
Exports of tin from China, in which the United States is materially interested, are likely to be largely increased, says a consular report. Practically all the tin mines of the country are in Yunnan province, the product being exported almost entirely through Hong-Kong.

Chooses Queer Quarters.
Queer quarters are those chosen by a thrush in Lincolnshire. It has built its nest over the axle and behind the grease-box of a railway wagon at Market Raasen. The bird is sitting on four eggs, and seems to be not at all disturbed when the wagon is shunted.

Women in Business World.
Women are now engaged in all but two of the 303 gainful occupations of the men of this country.

The man who has been a tail-ender all his life always becomes a leader when he dies.

CUT OUT FOR A FINANCIER

Youth Beginning Well and Father Seemed Abundantly Justified in His Reasoning.

The old man was perched upon a high stool, gazing up the day's sales of dry goods, groceries and hardware, when his son came in with a rush. "Say, Pop," exclaimed the young man, "if I can buy a three-hundred-dollar horse for one-fifty will you take a chattel mortgage on him and help me out with the cash?" "What kind of a horse, my son?" inquired the father cautiously. "Bay, 4 years old, sixteen hands high, weighs 1,000 pounds, and sound in wind, limb and bottom."

"That sounds good to me, my son, and I want to do all I can to help you along in the world," and he reached down into the safe for his roll. "How much do you want?"

"A hundred and forty-nine, fifty."

"What?" he exclaimed. "A hundred and forty-nine, fifty. I've got half a dollar."

Slowly the old man shoved the roll back into the safe.

"My son," he said softly, "you are wasting time trading horses. What you ought to do is to go into the loan and trust business." —Lippincott's.

Among the Theatres

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

Continued strong photoplays from the best and leading film makers of the country continue to draw the old-time crowds at the Palace Theatre. Some of the leaders this week were "The Thumb Print," "The Diamond Robbers," "The Willow Tree," and "The Romance of Bar O" and many others in which romance, comedy, melo-drama and tragedy were happily blended. One of the striking photoplays was that of a young girl imbued with the idea of teaching a class of Chinese the Christian precepts. The Celestials eagerly attended her meetings and accepted her hospitality, but scorned the true import of the teachings. The class was a precious lot of rascals, and the girl gets her eyes opened by her fiancé, and afterward devotes her work of charity to her own race. Hiss Helen Atwill, the talented soprano, continues to be a favorite with the large audiences, and her work in spot light and illustrated songs is highly appreciated.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

Most interesting was the repertoire at the Star Theatre this week as indicated by such photoplays as "The Old Peddler," "Chief Fire Eyes Game," "The Red Man's Gratitude," and "The City." Another one was "Kathleen Mavourneen," that charming sentimental Irish drama, that is the idol of the matinee girl. This was presented in all its freshness, showing the pretty Kathleen in her charming waywardness from which she is awakened by the vivid dream that restores her to her station and her sweetheart. Manager Tom Cowan finds his matinees which begin at 2 each afternoon growing in favor, particularly to out of town shoppers who spend many a pleasant hour in this cozy theatre.

THE NIXON—PITTSBURG.

Those two Broadway favorites, Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth are to be seen at the Nixon next week in what promises to be an unusually clever little piece, "Little Miss Fix-It."

"Little Miss Fix-It" is not an opera nor yet a musical comedy, but a comedy with songs, the dozen or more music numbers having been written by Bayes and Norworth themselves. Miss Bayes is the sweet singer of the team, Mr. Norworth furnishing the lyrics. Their "Honey Boy" ballad attracted world wide attention. Their latest "popular" song was the Irish ballad "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly" the hit of "The Jolly Bachelors" when Bayes and Norworth carried off the honors of that piece.

In "Little Miss Fix-It" they are said to have turned out another bouquet of song hits, written to fit the drama and displaying a variety of sentiment from heart throbs to playful comedy. The play itself is the work of W. J. Hurlburt and Harry B. Smith. The twin stars have a host of friends in Pittsburgh who remember them as $2500 a week vaudeville headliners and a cherry welcome awaits them in "Little Miss Fix-It."

THE ALVIN—PITTSBURG

After the success of "Alias Jimmy Valentine," a play in which interesting types of the underworld were transported bodily to the other side of the footlights, it is not at all surprising that Mr. Armstrong has worked along similar lines in "The Deep Purple," which he wrote in collaboration with Wilson Mizner, a well known magazine author. "The Deep Purple" has scored heavily wherever it has been seen. Its local engagement, scheduled for the Alvin, following George Arliss, will be looked forward to.

"The Deep Purple" is admittedly melodramatic in tendency, though, naturally it bears no kinship to the cheap shockers that are generally characterized as melodramas. It is melodramatic in that it thrills, though at no time does it fail to carry conviction.

Several of the characters of "The Deep Purple" are highclass confidence men, men who play for big stakes in a daring way. In contrast to these are the intended victim, his friends and associates, not the conventional dolls of the familiar melodrama, but creatures of flesh and brain, enough of the latter to make their conflict with the crooks one of interest.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

Notably brilliant and varied vaudeville is forecasted for the week beginning Monday afternoon, September 18, at the Grand. Manager Harry Davis announces a list of attractions the equal, if not, indeed the superior of any bill formerly played at this house. First of all we are to have Charles J. Ross and Mabel Fenton in an original domestic comedy written by Mr. Ross himself and entitled "Just Like a Woman." Ross and Fenton have not played in vaudeville for 10 years or longer, and their return at this time, which is for but a few weeks will be signalized by a performance of sprightly character.

Another distinguishing feature is Pouchot's Flying Ballet, the most spectacular and daring of aerial ballet acts. Mlle. Fifi Baumer, the premier aerialist of the company, which includes a goodly number of pretty and graceful Parisian dancers, was the premier of the opera before she entered the service of Mons. Pouchot. The girls are arrayed in the gorgeous raiment of human butterflies and float through space in an aerial dance of witching grace. They are joined by a covey of doves whose picturesque flight adds a touch of realism to the spectacle.

Frank Milton and the DeLong sisters will play a rural sketch styled "Thirty Minutes' Layover at Alfalfa Junction." Frank Spissell and company will play a physical comedy, entitled "The Continental Waiter." Lacy Simpson and Mabel Douglas will give their original nonsensical oddity, introducing quaint characterizations, songs, dances and patter.

Rita Gould another entertainer of splendid talents, will fill in a quartet of an hour acceptably.

A variety of other acts are included in the bill.

Radium breezes for Gout.
Radium lazen breezes are the very latest thing in the treatment of gout. One of the papers read at the German Medical congress was on the application of radium in the aerial state. Radium "emanatoria" have been established in Berlin and at Bad Homburg, and now Ems is to have one. A special apparatus in which radium is placed in a current of air is fixed in a room and all the patients have to do is to sit in the room and talk or read newspapers, or play draughts; the radium in solution in the air does the rest and affects the blood through the lungs. This treatment is especially recommended for all gouty ailments.

Savages Use Finger Bowl.
A student of manners and customs informs us that the finger bowl is not an invention of civilized peoples. On the contrary, the finger bowl is indigenous to the South Sea Islands, though it does not follow that the western world has copied the east in this respect. The bowl which is passed after a meal in the house on a South Sea Island is the half of a coconut shell, which is thrown away after being once used.

Actor's Proper Place.
Mahlon Ivins, Jr., of Merchantville has a reputation as an actor and takes part in nearly all of the local shows. In the last show that was given, Shorty had one of the leading parts. After the show, while he was taking off his make-up, an elderly man made his appearance in the doorway. "Are you Mr. Ivins?" inquired the old man. "Yes," replied Shorty, as he motioned him to be seated. "Well," the old man continued, "I just want to tell you something. I've been watching your acting tonight. You should not be playing in this town; you should be with Mansfield, Booth or Irving, or Joe Jefferson." "Why-why," said Shorty, "those actors are dead." "I know it," said the old man, as he turned on his heel and left.—Philadelphia Times.

British Agriculture.
Nearly 16 per cent of the people of Britain live by agriculture.

Blames the Romans.
A sartorial authority says that the custom of dressing for dinner began with the Romans. It was needless to say, a simpler procedure than at present. A loose robe of a fine material was donned for the evening meal, preferably at home, but in cases where guests came from a distance, at the home of the host, he kept a supply of dinner clothes on hand for the use of his guests who came unprovided.

DOWN TO A BUSINESS BASIS

Proud Old Banker Suddenly Decides He Is Interested in the Young Man's Career.

"Hm!" exclaimed the proud old banker as he turned and looked over his glasses at the young man who had been admitted to the inner sanctum. "I suppose you have come to ask me for permission to marry my daughter? Well, you can't have her. I've thought the matter over and I am convinced that you are not the kind of chap I'd want for a son-in-law. You're a natural-born politician and I have no use for politicians. You're always running for something. A man who is always doing that can't devote proper attention to his family. I've spoken plainly to you, sir, because I wish you to understand my position in this matter. I don't wish to argue with you about it. You may consider it settled."

"Thank you for your frankness in pointing out my faults as a family man; but I did not come primarily to ask you for your daughter, although I had an idea that we might discuss that matter later. What I wished to say this morning was that I have just been elected treasurer of the biggest and richest club in this city, and that I thought of keeping the funds in your bank. But perhaps—"

"Say, my boy, have you an engagement for luncheon? Come, you must go with me. I have wanted for some time to have a good, long, quiet talk with you. I'm interested in your career, and I think we both are interested in—some one else. Will you do me the honor?"

"Thank you. I have another engagement, but I'll break it."

Don't Talk.

Just do a thing and do it talk about it. This is the great secret of success in all enterprises. Talk means discussion; discussion means irritation; irritation means opposition; and opposition means hindrance always, whether you are right or wrong.—Sarah Grand

Believes This will "Cure Lung Troubles"

Consumption is a baffling disease—that is one of its chief dangers. Those who have it are rarely willing to acknowledge the fact.

If this trouble is present, it is no time for trifling. Don't waste time in argument. If a so-called "cold" has long persisted; if a cough is present that keeps you anxious or any of the symptoms are present such as fever, night sweats, weakness and loss of appetite, and perhaps, some raising of mucus—do the sensible thing; take Eckman's Alternative, as Mr. Bettensworth did.

Bowling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.
"Gentlemen: I wish to say for your Alternative that I believe it to be a medicine of unequalled value for all Bronchial and Lung trouble.
"The Spring of 1908, I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my friends and doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit up every night until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But at last, James Deering, of Glasgow Junction, insisted that I try your medicine, which I ordered at once and began taking the same. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I never wrote any firm or company a letter recommending their medicine before, as there are so many fakes that a genuine of genuine quality don't get credit or even tried.

"I desire the world to know that I firmly believe that your Eckman's Alternative will cure any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage. I will gladly write personally to any party wanting information in regard to your wonderful medicine." (Signed) ALBANY.

A. C. BETTENSWORTH.
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and.

LIFE PERIODS AND CLOTHES

How a Man's Tastes in Raiment Differ From Youth to Care.—less Old Age.

It is interesting to follow a man in the matter of his raiment. There are established periods in his life where in his tastes differ, and his ways differ, and from start to finish the matter is one of considerable interest.

When he is under age and at college, his taste runs riot in the matter of clothing. - Weir checks, fearful plaids, remarkable cuts of balloon-like pants and box-like coats appeal to him. The matter of a quarter inch in length of a coat concerns him greatly, and he begins to have his pants pressed with four creases in them, pointing to the north, south, east and west.

When he goes to work he carries some of this wonderful raiment with him. It is a link that connects him with glad college days. But the link wears out, and he is busy, and presently you see him in wholly different attire. He is neat enough, but his weird taste has changed.

He now goes in for business suits and is painfully exact in his dress for the evening.

But as he gets along in business he ceases to have his clothing pressed. He marries and his wife keeps after him to put on a clean collar. He has long ceased to wear shoes for looks and has his shoes made to order because he likes 'em to be 4 17-18 inches wide at the toe in order to obtain comfort. He has them shined whenever any event comes along and reminds him of it.

And finally his whole family leap upon him. They call him slouchy, and when he gets a new suit it is a family matter in which the individual views of the family combine, and his own are lost. For it's always that way, and probably always will be.—Galveston News.

NOT A SUBJECT FOR PITY

Little Boss of the School Made Careful Inquiry and Then Acted Promptly.

A suburban youngster who has long been the boss of his neighborhood has been attending, temporarily, a school connected with an orphanage. Very nearly all the pupils are dependents.

The school has a dozen bright red chairs which are greatly fancied by the boys, and there is either a general scramble for them or else the boys who live in the asylum are in them first.

This particular outsider was not to be denied when all the chairs were filled, and with his superior strength and courage would jump one of the occupants before the teacher arrived. Her attention was called to this and the small bully was told that he should have a feeling of pity for the unfortunate.

The next day he found all the chairs filled, one by a new pupil. He went to him and said:

"Have you a home?"

"Yes."

"A good home?"

"Yes."

"Father and mother?"

"Yes."

"Have you always had a father and mother?"

"Yes."

"Well, get out of my chair," and the intruder was hurled against the wall.—Chicago Evening Post.

Death the Great Democrat.

"The man willing to die becomes the master of the world. This is an overture of universal emancipation; it excludes no one. The beginning of liberty is the discovery of the beautifulness and the infinite succor of death. There can be no freedom among men who are afraid to die; and a people to whom success is necessary cannot build a city that is great. The cities of the world—New York, London, Paris—are provincial; we have yet to build a metropolis—a city of the soul—a city whose citizens are not afraid of death—a capital of democracy. Death is the revealer of the soul; therefore death is the great democrat."—Charles Ferguson.

What He Was Thinking About.

A grandfather of a South Ph. adeline home walked into the sitting room and found his grandson in deep thought.

"John," he said, "I will give you a dollar if you will tell me what you are thinking about."

No effect was produced on the grandson at all.

"I say, John, I will give you a quarter if you will tell me," said the grandfather.

With that remark the grandson jumped up and demanded the money. Such was readily turned over to him. "I was thinking, grandpa," he said, "I could earn some money with my working 'or it."

Kansas Revival of a Wet Old Jest.

A show at the opera house in Barnes. The villain was trying with might and main to force a drink of liquor down the throat of the hero, who resolutely refused it. A small boy in the audience yelled, "Give it to my pa; he'll drink it."—Greenleaf Sentinel.

His Was Laziness.

Counted Ants for Two Years.

A marvel of scientific research, says our Berlin correspondent, has been accomplished by Professor Young, who has been investigating the interior condition of anthills. By dint of patient observation Professor Young discovered that an anthill two feet in height was inhabited by 93,780 ants. Other anthills of almost the same size were found to contain 67,500, 53,000 and 48,000 ants respectively. These observations and the counting of the tiny insects occupied two years.—London Evening Standard.

100 YEARS A CHURCH

First Disciple Place of Worship to Observe
Centennial

LOCATED AT BRUSH RUN

For some time the West Middle-town Christian congregation and Elder A. C. Jones have been planning to observe the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Brush Run congregation, the first of the brotherhood of the Christian church in America says the Clayville Recorder. They had the promise of Hon. Champ Clark to deliver an address on that occasion, but he was unable to give a date and as it is growing late for open air events the observance was this week postponed until next June or July. It is desired to hold the exercises on or near the site of the old church, near the Farrar school house. Timbers from the old building were taken to Bethany recently and it will be rebuilt on the Campbell grounds.

The site of Brush Run church was selected on the farm of Wm. Gilchrist in the fall of 1810. The location was on Brush Run, about two miles above its junction with Buffalo creek. The church building was erected in the spring of 1811, and the opening discourse was delivered by Alexander Campbell, June 16, of the same year. His text was from Gal. 1:4, "Who gave himself for our sin, that He might deliver us from this present evil world." The congregation was organized May 4th, 1811, in the new building. Thomas Campbell was appointed elder, Alexander Campbell was set apart as preacher of the gospel. John Dawson, George Sharp, Wm. Gilchrist and James Foster were chosen as deacons.

Those who composed Brush Run church were Thomas Campbell, Alexander Campbell, Mrs. Jane Campbell and daughter, Dorothea; James Foster and wife, John Dawson and wife, Thomas Hadgens, Sr., and wife and his son, James Hodgkins; James Hansen and wife, Wm. Gilchrist's mother; George Sharp, Sr., wife and son, John; Thomas Sharp, Mrs. George Sharp, Jr.; George Archer and wife, Abraham Alters, Margaret Fullerton, Joseph Bryant and John Donaldson.

About the same time congregations were formed at Hickory and Cross Roads. The Campbells continued to minister to these and plant other churches in new fields. Alexander Campbell was ordained "to the work of the Holy Ministry" January 1, 1812. In 1813 James Foster was ordained as elder in Brush Run congregation and aided in the instruction of the church.

With this beginning the movement has spread and now there are about 1,500,000 communicants in America.

DUVALL TO RUN FOR COUNCILMAN

D. R. Duvall announces in this issue among the announcements for borough officials that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for council for four years at the coming primary. Mr. Duvall is one of Charleroi's leading hardware dealers, and is a man of sound business judgment and is possessed of good executive ability. He is a large property holder and a prime mover and supported in all that works for the advancement and progress of Charleroi. He is thoroughly conversant with the business needs of the town, and his mental poise and business ability would make him a strong man on the councilmanic board. These are some of the qualifications he possesses, which with his well known business integrity gives him a strong claim for the voters to consider at the polls.

Supporting Worthy Acts.
In this day when the search light of publicity is turned on the acts of public officials we are likely to see the evil things and pass over the worthy ones. This is the general tendency. The people do the same thing. They criticize those who do not represent them but fail oftentimes to give encouragement or to stand back of those who perform real public service. Vote for Bowers for Treasurer.

Fell From Scaffold.
Wm. Cross of McKeesport met with a painful accident Monday by falling from a scaffold at the Ninth street school house where some repairs were in progress. His injuries, which were not of a serious nature, were attended by Drs. Bender and Cartwright.

TABLETS TO MARK HISTORICAL SPOTS

Fayette Historical Society
Looking After Pre-Revolutionary Sites

Five more tablets to mark historical spots are to be erected in Fayette county by the old Fort Necessity celebration committee of 1904, and W. T. Kennedy of Uniontown has received the bill of lading for these tablets which have been shipped from Gettysburg by the manufacturer, Calvin Gilbert, who makes tablets for the government. The tablets and posts weigh 270 pounds each.

One tablet will mark the site of Fort McCoy and will be taken in charge by the Uniontown Country Club and erected on their grounds.

Another tablet will mark Fort Van Swearingen on the Ben Ramsey farm near Point Marion and a committee from Springhill township will place it.

Fort Mason at Masontown will be marked by a tablet to be placed by a committee consisting of Dr. G. W. Neff, Alex. Mack and Squire William Sangston.

Tablets will also mark Fort Craft on the Slocum farm near Brownsville and Fort Crable near South Brownsville. These will be taken in charge of the committee of the Eighty-fifth Regiment whose reunion was held Thursday and Friday at Brownsville, and will be erected this week with appropriate exercises. It is probable that exercises will also be held at the erection of all the other tablets in the county.

PUBLIC DEBATE ON SOCIALISM

Advocate Will Contend That
It Alone Can Prevent
Crime

An event of much interest to many in this community is the forthcoming debate between former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan of Charleroi and Leroy Bruce of Allentown on the topic, "Resolved that Socialism is the Only Method to Prevent Crime." This takes place at the Coyle Theatre on Sunday, September 24 at 2:30 p. m. Mr. Bruce takes the affirmative and Mr. Callaghan the negative.

The debate is the result of a challenge by Mr. Callaghan, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff to the chairmen of the different political parties to debate the subject, "What is the best method to prevent crime?" None of these responded, but Mr. Bruce accepted the challenge on the subject that Socialism is the only remedy. Mr. Callaghan accepted and the debate will be held Sunday at the Coyle Theatre as stated.

FEEHAN MAY RESIGN IN INTEREST OF HARMONY

Effort to Heal Breach May Cause President to Retire

COMMITTEE TO DECIDE

Quarrel in Pittsburg District of Much Concern to International Officials

When the sub-committee, appointed by the International Executive Board of United Mine Workers of America makes its report today at Pittsburg, some sensational developments are looked for in the miners' dispute in the Pittsburg district between the Feehan and Gibbons factions. The International Executive Committee, has been in session in Pittsburg for nearly three weeks past, in an effort to harmonize the warring factions, and when it adjourned Saturday evening it voted to refer the entire case to a sub-committee of three its members for a review of the evidence, with instructions to report Tuesday. The committee of three, of which William Diamond of Illinois, William Diamond of Michigan and H. Harrison of Alabama.

While the plan of action which the sub-committee is expected to recommend is not of course known, it is thought by some who have kept close tab on the situation that President Feehan of the Pittsburg district may resign in the interests of harmony, on conditions that the Gibbons faction, which has attempted to set up an independent organization, also ceases its efforts and returns to the parent organization. While President Feehan is the undoubted choice of the majority of the miners of the district, the opposition of the Gibbons faction has grown to such proportions that a serious breach is threatened in the organization. As a new scale is to be signed next spring, the miners organization cannot well approach the operators with the Pittsburg district all disrupted, which is in reality the backbone of the organization, in view of the immense mining operations here.

For that reason President Feehan may resign, provided the Gibbons faction will return to the fold and cease to press its claims. Mr. Feehan has been vindicated in his actions in the affair and fully exonerated of all charges made against him by the warring faction, but in the interests of harmony he may step down and out. While this will be regretted exceedingly by his multitude of friends in the district, the near approach of the time when a new scale is to be signed renders heroic measures imperative if the Pittsburg district is to present an unbroken front to the operators. The situation has become so grave that the international officials are said to be much concerned over it and are therefore bending every effort to harmonize the differences before the next annual convention. In case President Feehan resigns it is probable that a commission may be appointed to look after the executive affairs of the district until a new president is elected. It is stated that if Feehan resigns neither he nor Gibbons are to be candidates for president at the next district election.

Aged Woman An Impostor

The Mail has been requested to warn the people of Charleroi of an impostor who is asking for charity where it is not needed. This is said to be an aged woman living in a neighborhood by community who, unknown to her relatives, has been begging from door to door in the hill district. Her aged appearance and decrepitness makes her an object of pity, and she is said to have played her role quite successfully. Investigation, however, revealed the fact that the woman has relatives who care for her, and that she slips away and begs unknown to them. The people are warned not to give her anything, and to report her to the town officials.

MOTHER FRANTIC

BODY RECOVERED LATER

Helpless on the river bank, Mrs. Henry Todesko, of Monongahela whose husband was one of the victims of the Marianna mine disaster, saw her three-year-old child swallowed up by the murky waters of the Monongahela river Monday afternoon.

The baby and a brother six years old, were on a raft in the river. Mrs. Todesko apprehensively watched her babies, while her husband, who operates the ferry at Eleventh street, rowed a passenger to the opposite shore.

Suddenly the raft tilted. The baby was thrown into the water. Cries from her brought the step-father toward the raft as fast as the craft could be propelled. Four men restrained the frantic mother from plunging into the river and she was insane from grief. At the time of the Marianna disaster it was with difficulty that the woman whose husband was killed was prevented from leaping into the shaft.

The body of the baby was recovered two hours later.

In Honor of St. Anthony.

The ceremony of the worshiping of St. Anthony will be observed at the Mother of Sorrows Italian Catholic church, corner of Sixth street and Fallowfield avenue at 7:30 o'clock this evening. Rev. Maselli of Monongahela will preach a sermon on St. Anthony.

Mrs. T. P. Sloan has returned from Mt. Clemens, Mich., where she spent several weeks for the benefit of her health.

Deposit cards bearing a 10 cent stamp can also be purchased, and when nine other ten cent stamps are affixed these can be deposited as $1 and an account opened. These cards are for the benefit of children who save their pennies in order to start and carry on a banking account. The method of accounting is very simple. Interest starts on the first of the succeeding month after the deposit is made. Deposits made now will commence to draw interest from the first of next month. It is easy to understand, and it is expected that the system will prove a popular one in Charleroi.

INVITE KNIGHTS FROM CHARLEROI

Pittsburg Knights of Columbus to Observe Natal Day With Banquet

Charleroi Council No. 956, Knights of Columbus, have received invitations from the Pittsburg Council to be present at the annual banquet of the latter in commemoration of Columbus Day, October 1. This is to be held at the Hotel Schenley, and will be an event of State wide importance in the annals of the order. The roster of speakers for the occasion contains some eminent names, among whom are Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, one of the most noted orators in the Catholic clergy in this country, Governor J. K. Tener, W. H. Carmody, supreme deputy knight of the order, Dr. Jas. J. Walsh of New York, and Congressman Ben Johnson of Kentucky.

It is probable that a large delegation of the local Knights of Columbus will make arrangements to attend the banquet.

NEXT FRIDAY IS JEWISH NEW YEAR

Season Will Be Observed With Great Solemnity by All Hebrews

With all the solemnity characteristic of Hebrew services the Jewish New Year will be ushered in promptly at sundown Friday. Surrounded by their families, heads of households will wend their way to synagogues to participate in the observance, which differs entirely from any other on the calendar. Those who live in towns without places of worship observe the holiday in a personal way.

While "Rosh Hashona," as the New Year is called, is one of feasting, no levity whatever is indulged in. The services consist mainly of chants and prayers, led by the cantor. The members of the synagogue, clad in flowing white robes, repeat the chants in hushed voices. At the Shaare Torah Synagogue, Townsend street, Pittsburg, the oldest in Western Pennsylvania, services will be conducted by Rabbi M. S. Sivitz, who for the past 24 years has acted in that capacity. The New Year, according to the Jewish calendar, is 5672.

MANY DIVORCE CASES IN COURT

Thirteen Listed on Argument List to Come for Hearing Today

On the argument list, which will be heard this week in the county court at Washington, beginning this morning, there are already thirteen divorce actions. This number will be increased, as the testimony in other suits were presented to the court on Monday at motion and rule court.

Divorce suits already on the argument list are these: Walker M. Henderson vs. Mary B. Henderson; Bessie Miller vs. John E. Miller; Nellie Beatty vs. Perry Beatty; Helen Boyer vs. Chas. W. Boyer; Ethel Blyston vs. Irwin Blyston; David Theodore Hilt vs. Flora D. Hilt; Martha A. Smith vs. S. S. Smith; Kate Behling vs. Frank Behling; Lydia M. Wise vs. Frank Wise; Victor Virginia Ellis vs. Charles Victor Ellis; Julia Bodner vs. John Bodner; Cora Lang vs. Joseph Lang; Conrad Hilt vs. Catherine Hilt; and Roxanna Patterson vs. Louis Patterson.

STATE TO INSPECT COUNTY HOMES

Department Orders Demented Ones to Be Rounded Up and Cared For

Investigation of all county homes which house insane inmates without authority to do so has been ordered by the Committee on Lunacy of the State Board of Charities at their last quarterly meeting. This is regarded as one of the most important steps toward bettering the condition of the insane which has been taken for some time.

A half dozen county homes say the members of the board have inmates of unsound mind, although legally they have no right to harbor such persons. These inmates are continued in these homes because the crowded conditions of the state hospitals or other reasons make it impracticable to send them elsewhere.

The plan of the Committee on Lunacy is to make a thorough investigation and ascertain the exact conditions. Efforts will be made to have the almshouses in question brought under the county care act so that everything may be done in conformity with law.

INSPECTORS AWAITING ORDERS FROM STATE

Uses Gun; Man Dying

Monon Officer Shoots Man Who Resisted Arrest and Then Flees

As the result of a shooting affray at Hazelkirk Sunday evening William Presto is in the Mercy hospital at Pittsburg in a dying condition and Constable Fred Sellman of Monongahela who did the shooting escaped and is still at large.

The trouble occurred at a boarding house during the progress of a wedding. Constable Sellman attempted to arrest Presto when the latter resisted. Sellman is stated pulled his revolver and shot Presto through the body. Sellman is said to have at once disappeared and the wounded man was hurried to the hospital.

Word received from the hospital Monday evening was to the effect that Presto would die and a warrant was sworn out for Sellman's arrest.

SHE SUES FOR DOWER

INTERESTS AFFECTED

Elizabeth Dague has instituted a rather peculiar suit in the county court at Washington against William C. Ghemp and the Ellsworth Colliery company. She sues for her widow's dower in a tract of land in East Bethlehem township, now in the possession of the defendants.

In 1895 her husband, A. J. Dague, who has since died, conveyed a tract of land in trust for his creditors to H. B. Dague. In June, 1896, H. B. Dague sold the land to Wm. Ghemp. Ghemp sold the coal under the land to another person and that person in turn sold the coal to the colliery company.

The ground on which Mrs. Dague bases her suit is that she did not join in the deed by which the land was conveyed to H. B. Dague and that she never barred her right to her dower interest in the land. She therefore asks that an accounting be made and that she be given her interest, one-third, and the rents and profits from the time the land was disposed of by her husband. This will require close judgment and the decree will be watched for with interest.

Fixing the Street.

The Pittsburg Street Railway has a large force of men at work repairing the street between and on each side of their track on McKean avenue. They started the work between Fourth and Fifth streets, and will make repairs all along the line. Since the installation of the heavy interurban cars the tracks have sunk below the level in many places, and council served notice on the company to make the repairs.

Plans Under Way for Medical Examination of Pupils

SYSTEM IS OPTIONAL

As soon as Health Commissioner Dixon complete his arrangements, the Charleroi school board, which voted to have medical inspection in the public schools will receive instructions how to proceed, and will at once start in on the work. As previously noted the physicians selected by the board to make the inspection are Dr. J. K. Smith for the Fifth street school, Dr. F. C. Stahman the Ninth street school, Dr. Edw. McKay the Second street school and Dr. H. J. Rapman, the Crest avenue school.

Advices from Harrisburg are to the effect that in addition to the personal inspection the physicians will also make a thorough investigation of the sanitary conditions existing at the schools. The medical inspector will be instructed to note the age and sex of the pupil, the condition of sight, hearing, respiration, skin, teeth, cervical glands, contagious diseases, pulmonary tuberculosis and deformities. Each eye will be tested separately, using Shellen's chart at 20 feet. The presence of blepharitis, conjunctivitis, tritis or trachoma or any affection of the cornea will be observed.

Each ear will likewise be tested separately for accuracy of hearing by whispering also at 20 feet, the distance at which the whisper is heard being used as the numerator and the distance at which it should be heard given as the denominator of the fraction. Defective teeth and nasal breathing will be noted.

If indications of present or recent contagious disease are found, note will be made of the fact and the exclusion of the child and its brothers and sisters at once ordered. Under no circumstances will the medical inspector advise as to the selection of a physician or communicate with the family of a pupil personally with regard to the results of the examination. Reports to the family being made directly from the department.

Upon receiving the reports at the central bureau in Harrisburg, the chief medical inspector and his assistants will go over them very carefully and letters will be written to the parents of children in whom physical defects have been found, calling attention to these defects and suggesting that the child be taken to the family physician for a more detailed examination and treatment.

It is stated that inspections will be made in 785 school districts throughout the State, which includes approximately 250,000 children. Those districts which did not decide the question previous to August 1 will be obliged to have the medical inspection according to the provisions of the new school code.

The police dragnet gathered in a disorderly bunch in the Tenth street district Saturday night who were indulging in a drunken free for all fight. At the hearing Sunday morning Burgess G. W. Risbeck fined six of them $4.35 each.

LEADER NOT BOSS.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania
may hope for success at the next general election by seeing to it that only
proper candidates are named for the
offices to be filled at the coming primary contests," is a recent statement
credited to United States Senator
Boies Penrose, the Pennsylvania Republican leader. Senator Penrose considers that the successful party in the state must keep in close touch with
the voters and he argues that the best
way to satisfy and attract the voters
is to provide them with the best possible material in the way of party
nominees.

That is exactly what Senator Pen-
rose is aiming to do in Philadelphia.
During the enforced absence of Senator Penrose at the extra session of Congress some of his Philadelphia
friends assumed to dictate the policy
of the Philadelphia Republicans and named as candidates for the several Philadelphia offices selfish individuals
who did not appeal properly to the people of that city. This arrangement
was by no means satisfactory to Senator Penrose and upon the adjourn-
ment of Congress he returned home,
asked the people to indicate their
choice for the important offices and
then threw his force and influence as
the people suggested. Every paper
in Philadelphia is back of Senator
Penrose in this particular fight and
the success of the candidates he has
approved seems certain.

It is apparent that Senator Pen-
rose has determined to reform the Republican party from inside its own
lines which will guarantee the success of the party and the promotion
of Republican principles. Each day
the people of Pennsylvania are becoming more convinced that Senator
Penrose is a leader and not a boss.

WHAT MAKES NEWSPAPERS.

The Washington Observer celebrated its 40th anniversary on Monday
by the issue of a special edition of 28
pages in two sections. The Observer
which is one of the most successful
and influential newspapers of Western Pennsylvania, has attained its present standing during the past ten

years. Up to time of the organization of the present publishing company the paper spent 30 years in a
more or less strenuous struggle for
existence although it performed a
worthy mission in its sphere of newspaper existence. When the present
company was organized the paper had
a daily circulation of about 1,500.
Now it prints and circulates 8,500
daily. The cause of the steady
growth was the expenditure of ample capital, backed by unrelenting and
untiring effort. Today the Observer
has a plant worth perhaps approximately $150,000, which gives some
idea of the cost and investment
necessary to publish even a successful country newspaper.

The Mail is often criticised for its
lack of facilities, and compared with
the Washington Observer, and the
question asked, "Why cannot you get
out a newspaper like the Ob-
server?" by those who know nothing about the business. To these it would say: Ten years ago, after a 30 year existence the Washington Observer (in our opinion) was not making near the showing that the Mail
is now, and did not have as large a
circulation. A capitalization of $110,- 000 with every dollar paid in and
available in the making of a newspaper works wonders, but even then
the progress of a newspaper is of
slow growth. With all this capital
and the results it could bring, it has
taken the Observer ten years to increase its sphere of influence and action less than six-fold.

This however, does not detract
from the present standing of the Observer nor the excellence of its special
edition, and the Mail congratulates
its contemporary on its success.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Snickering in church is about as
bad an offense as talking out loud in
school.

Those people who have been wearing vests the year around will soon
have to put on sweaters and over-
coats. Later in the year they will need
to add a few comforts and a pair of
felt boots.

Because a candidate makes an
active canvass and everybody tells
him they will vote for him is no sure
sign he is going to be elected.

Disappointments come easier after
a man has run for office a few times.

It is better to keep quiet than talk
foolish.

The biggest fool in the world is the one who thinks he never makes a
fool of himself.

There are just two excuses why
people don't pay their bills promptly.
One is because they can't and the
other which really overshadows the
former is that they don't want to.

Our opinion of some of the Con-
gressman's speeches is that they were decidedly annoying.

Unless a man can learn to pronounce "t" with a roll of the tongue
and without the grating sound, he
can never hope to attain fame as an
orator in the House of Representatives.

Orators shine principally in just
two places—when they become lo-
quacious at the club room or at the State house. The power is about the same at both places, although the incentive widely differs.

There is a possibility that a number of towns will get all mixed up with
this new election law and it will take
a brand new election law to straighten
the mess out—and tangle it all over
again.

A clerkship or even a job as man-
ipulator of the broom is not to be
laughed at nowadays.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"The Pittsburg undertakers and the Charleroi doctors are kicking over the condition of business," said Dr.
T. M. Faddis yesterday, in response to a question as to the health of the town. When asked if times of depression made any difference in the health of a community Dr. Faddis said:

"Most assuredly. It is a well established fact that hard times diminishes both the death rate and sickness."

"How do you account for it?" the
doctor was asked.

"All a matter of eating," was the
reply. "During hard times people
eat less and consume plainer food.
Three-fourths of all the sickness is
caused by eating too much or im-
proper things at improper times.
When people don't have the money
to spend for niceness and fancy things
to eat and to pamper their appetites,
and eat to live, instead of living to
eat, they have less sickness and live
longer. A plain diet and regular
meals sparingly eaten cuts down
business for both the doctors and the
undertakers."

"Not many hobos on this division
of the Pennsylvania now," said J.
A. Henderson of the Pennsylvania
Railroad secret service, yesterday.
"They all seem to be working their
way along the Lake Erie lines. I am
told that hordes of them beat their
way over the various lines to the
convention of hobos at Washington,
D. C. At all events there are not
many on this division, and we have
not had many robberies of any
consequence lately."

Inquiries in other directions shows
the absence of many tramps in this
section, although a number of bur-
glaries have occurred in the near-by
towns and some in Charleroi lately.
Indications, however, point to the operation of one or two individuals
covering the whole series.

"I wish you would say something

in the paper about people fastening
their door and windows nights, particularly the latter," said Chief of Police C. W. Albright, Monday, when
the burglary of Sunday morning was
the topic of conversation. "By leaving windows unfastened and doors
unlocked people invite burglars and
sneak thieves to operate. In my opinion it is this neglect that tempts
boys in particular to make the attempt. Now when there seems to be
an epidemic of burglaries in all the
surrounding towns people should exercise every precaution and not make
it easy for thieves to enter their
homes."

Great Writer Not Fond of Music.
Dr. Johnson was among those who had no high opinion of music. He admitted that "if he had learnt
music he should have been afraid he
would have done nothing else but
play," but explained that "it was a
method of employing the mind without
the labor of thinking at all and with
some applause for a man's self." He
also confessed that "he knew a drum
from a trumpet and a bagpipe from a
guitar which was about the extent of
his knowledge of music."

Honey in Woman's Hat.
An abandoned peach basket hat
was left at a farmhouse at Kingston,
N. Y., by a summer boarder a year
ago, which the farmer's children
mounted on a fence post and quite
forgot. When they came upon it in
the course of their romps the other
day they tried to take it down. A
swarm of wild bees was found in it,
and the farmer has 12 pounds of
honey to sell. Almost any humorist
can find material in this.

USEFUL ABOUT THE HOUSE

Ammonia Cleans Clothing and Paint and is Good for Numerous Other Purposes.

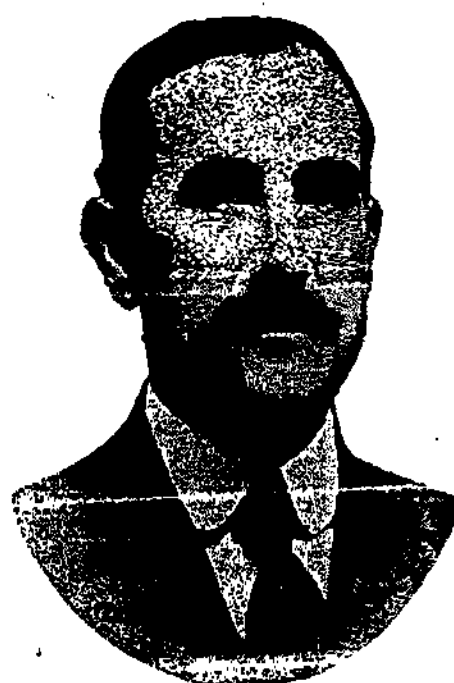

In housekeeping ammonia has many uses. It is an efficient help about the wardrobe. Black material, sponged with a cupful of water in which a teaspoonful of ammonia has been mixed, will renew its freshness, while black silk will lose its objectionable shininess by such a sponging. A little ammonia will remove grease from collars, and when rubbed over corsets will cleanse them to a nicety. When mixed with equal parts of turpentine, ammonia will remove paint stains from cloth. If the paint is stubborn it may require several applications before the work is done. Persevere. Nothing is so good for boys' tweed suits as to sponge them with the ammonia mixture. For toilet use, a small quantity will soften the water in which the hair is washed and aid in cleansing the scalp. It renders the bath delightful, and carpets, when thoroughly gone over with ammonia and water, are surprisingly restored to something like their original freshness. When mixed with white wax and turpentine it makes the best of polishes for the floor. To relieve the pain and prevent inflammation resulting from the bites and stings of summer insects ammonia ranks first as a cure.

A Moving Land.

One of the broad slopes of Mont Gringuez, France, is reported to have become detached from its foundations, and to have moved over a distance of nearly a quarter of a mile, carrying with it the soil, meadows and woods, and covering up in its passage roads and bridges that stood in the way. A chestnut grove has traveled 500 feet without suffering any apparent damage, but many small lakes have been formed by the damming of the waters. —Scientific American.

This is the Pledge That Downer Made

"That if nominated and elected to the office of County Treasurer, I promise the people a capable and efficient administration, based on sound business principals, conducted solely in the interest of the taxpayers. I will deposit all funds coming into my care to the best advantage of the county, and will furnish my own bond. I will make no effort to influence the County Commissioners in their efforts to arrive at an equitable adjustment of the treasurer's compensation, and will conduct the office in the event of my success, as a trustee of the people, serving them, in every instance with faithfulness and fidelity."

Downer Led the Way

Others may follow, but the taxpayers know that DOWNER is the man whose progressive platform has made certain a satisfactory administration of the County Treasurer's office.

Looked Easy to Him.
Graydon's father is dead, and the child, hearing other children talk of their fathers, began to importune his mother for "another papa." Mamma tried to explain that she couldn't conveniently grant this wish, at the moment, but Graydon didn't consider any of the suggested reasons adequate. "It ought to be easy enough, mamma, with so many loose men all around!"

China's Exports of Tin.
Exports of tin from China, in which the United States is materially interested, are likely to be largely increased, says a consular report. Practically all the tin mines of the country are in Yunnan province, the product being exported almost entirely through Hong-Kong.

Chooses Queer Quarters.
Queer quarters are those chosen by a thrush in Lincolnshire. It has built its nest over the axle and behind the grease-box of a railway wagon at Market Rasen. The bird is sitting on four eggs, and seems to be not at all disturbed when the wagon is shunted.

Women in Business World.
Women are now engaged in all but two of the 303 gainful occupations of the men of this country.

CUT OUT FOR A FINANCIER

Youth Beginning Well and Father Seemed Abundantly Justified in His Reasoning.

The old man was perched upon a high stool, figuring up the day's sales of dry goods, groceries and hardware, when his son came in with a rush. "Say, Pop," exclaimed the young man, "if I can buy a three-hundred-dollar horse for one-fifty will you take a chattel mortgage on him and help me out with the cash?" "What kind of a horse, my son?" inquired the father cautiously. "Bay, 4 years old, sixteen hands high, weighs 1,000 pounds, and sound in wind, limb and bottom."

"That sounds good to me, my son, and I want to do all I can to help you along in the world," and he reached down into the safe for his roll. "How much do you want?" "A hundred and forty-nine, fifty." The old man gasped and caught hold of the desk. "What?" he exclaimed. "A hundred and forty-nine, fifty. I've got half a dollar."

Slowly the old man shored the roll back into the safe. "My son," he said softly, "you are wasting time trading horses. What you ought to do is to go into the loan and trust business." —Lippincott's.

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI

Continued strong photoplays from the best and leading film makers of the country continue to draw the old-time crowds at the Palace Theatre. Some of the leaders this week were "The Thumb Print," "The Diamond Robbers," "The Willow Tree," and "The Romance of Bar O" and many others in which romance, comedy, melo-drama and tragedy were happily blended. One of the striking photoplays was that of a young girl imbued with the idea of teaching a class of Chinese the Christian precepts. The Celestials eagerly attended her meetings and accepted her hospitality, but scorned the true import of the teachings. The class was a precious lot of rascals, and the girl gets her eyes opened by her finance, and afterward devotes her work of charity to her own race. Miss Helen Atwill, the talented soprano, continues to be a favorite with the large audiences, and her work in spot light and illustrated songs is highly appreciated.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI

Most interesting was the repertoire at the Star Theatre this week as indicated by such photoplays as "The Old Peddler," "Chief Fire Eyes Game," "The Red Man's Gratitude," and "The City." Another one was "Kathleen Mavourneen," that charming sentimental Irish drama, that is the idol of the matinee girl. This was presented in all its freshness, showing the pretty Kathleen in her charming waywardness from which she is awakened by the vivid dream that restores her to her station and her sweetheart. Manager Tom Cowan finds his matinees which begin at 2 each afternoon growing in favor, particularly to out of town shoppers who spend many a pleasant hour in this cozy theatre.

THE NIXON—PITTSBURG

Those two Broadway favorites, Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth are to be seen at the Nixon next week in what promises to be an unusually clever little piece, "Little Miss Fix-It." "Little Miss Fix-It" is not an opera nor yet a musical comedy, but a comedy with songs, the dozen or more music numbers having been written by Bayes and Norworth themselves. Miss Bayes is the sweet singer of the team, Mr. Norworth furnishing the lyrics. Their "Honey Boy" ballad attracted world wide attention. Their latest "popular" song was the Irish ballad "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly" the hit of "The Jolly Bachelors" when Bayes and Norworth carried off the honors of that piece.

In "Little Miss Fix-It" they are said to have turned out another bouquet of song hits, written to fit the drama and displaying a variety of sentiment from heart throbs to playful comedy. The play itself is the work of W. J. Hurlburt and Harry B. Smith. The twin stars have a host of friends in Pittsburgh who remember them as $2500 a week vaudeville headliners and a cherry welcome awaits them in "Little Miss Fix-It."

THE ALVIN—PITTSBURG

After the success of "Alias Jimmy Valentine," a play in which interesting types of the underworld were transported bodily to the other side of the footlights, it is not at all surprising that Mr. Armstrong has worked along similar lines in "The Deep Purple," which he wrote in collaboration with Wilson Mizner, a well known magazine author. "The Deep Purple" has scored heavily wherever it has been seen. Its local engagement, scheduled for the Alvin, following George Arliss, will be looked forward to.

"The Deep Purple" is admittedly melodramatic in tendency, though, naturally it bears no kinship to the cheap shockers that are generally characterized as melodramas. It is melodramatic in that it thrills, though at no time does it fail to carry conviction.

Several of the characters of "The Deep Purple" are highclass confidence men, men who play for big stakes in a daring way. In contrast to these are the intended victims, his friends and associates, not the conventional dolls of the familiar melodrama, but creatures of flesh and brain, enough of the latter to make their conflict with the crooks one of interest.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG

Notably brilliant and varied vaudeville is forecasted for the week beginning Monday afternoon, September 18, at the Grand. Manager Harry Davis announces a list of attractions the equal, if not, indeed the superior of any bill formerly played at this house. First of all we are to have Charles J. Ross and Mabel Fenton in an original domestic comedy written by Mr. Ross himself and entitled "Just Like a Woman." Ross and Fenton have not played in vaudeville for 10 years or longer, and their return at this time, which is for but a few weeks will be signalized by a performance of sprightly character.

Another distinguishing feature is Pouchot's Flying Ballet, the most spectacular and daring of aerial ballet acts. Miss Fifi Baumler, the premier aerialist of the company, which includes a goodly number of pretty and graceful Parisian dancers, was the premier of the opera before she entered the service of Mons. Pouchot. The girls are arrayed in the gorgeous raiment of human butterflies and float through space in an aerial dance of witching grace. They are joined by a covey of doves whose picturesque flight adds a touch of realism to the spectacle.

Frank Milton and the DeLong sisters will play a rural sketch styled "Thirty Minutes' Layover at Alfalfa Junction." Frank Spissell and company will play a physical comedy, entitled "The Continental Waiter." Lacy Simpson and Mabel Douglas will give their original nonsensical oddity, introducing quaint characterizations, songs, dances and patter. Rita Gould another entertainer of splendid talents, will fill in a quartet of an hour acceptably.

A variety of other acts are included in the bill.

Radium breeze for Gout.

Radium laden breezes are the very latest thing in the treatment of gout. One of the papers read at the German Medical congress was on the application of radium in the aerial state. Radium "emanatoria" have been established in Berlin and at Bad Homburg, and now it is to have one. A special apparatus in which radium is placed in a current of air is fixed in a room and all the patients have to do is to sit in the room and talk or read newspapers, or play draughts; the radium in solution in the air does the rest and affects the blood through the lungs. This treatment is especially recommended for all gouty ailments.

Savages Use Finger Bowl.

A student of manners and customs informs us that the finger bowl is not an invention of civilized peoples. On the contrary, the finger bowl is indigenous to the South Sea Islands, though it does not follow that the western world has copied the east in this respect. The bowl which is passed after a meal in the house on a South Sea Island is the half of a coconut shell, which is thrown away after being once used.

Actor's Proper Place.

Mahlon Ivins, Jr., of Merchantville has a reputation as an actor and takes part in nearly all of the local shows. In the last show that was given, Shorty had one of the leading parts. After the show, while he was taking off his makeup, an elderly man made his appearance in the doorway. "Are you Mr. Ivins?" inquired the old man. "Yes," replied Shorty, as he motioned him to be seated. "Well," the old man continued, "I just want to tell you something. I've been watching your acting tonight. You should not be playing in this town; you should be with Mansfield, Booth or Irving, or Joe Jefferson." "Why-why," said Shorty, "those actors are dead." "I know it," said the old man, as he turned on his heel and left.—Philadelphia Times.

British Agriculture.

Nearly 16 per cent of the people of Britain live by agriculture.

Blames the Romans.

A sartorial authority says that the custom of dressing for dinner began with the Romans. It was needless to say, a simpler procedure than at present. A loose robe of a fine material was donned for the evening meal, preferably at home, but in cases where guests came from a distance, at the home of the host, he kept a supply of dinner clothes on hand for the use of his guests who came unprovided.

Proud Old Banker Suddenly Decides He Is Interested in the Young Man's Career.

"Hm!" exclaimed the proud old banker as he turned and looked over his glasses at the young man who had been admitted to the inner sanctum. "I suppose you have come to ask me for permission to marry my daughter? Well, you can't have her. I've thought the matter over and I am convinced that you are not the kind of chap I'd want for a son-in-law. You're a natural-born politician and I have no use for politicians. You're always running for something. A man who is always doing that can't devote proper attention to his family. I've spoken plainly to you, sir, because I wish you to understand my position in this matter. I don't wish to argue with you about it. You may consider it settled."

"Thank you for your frankness in pointing out my faults as a family man; but I did not come primarily to ask you for your daughter, although I had an idea that we might discuss that matter later. What I wished to say this morning was that I have just been elected treasurer of the biggest and richest club in this city, and that I thought of keeping the funds in your bank. But perhaps—"

"Say, my boy, have you an engagement for luncheon? Come, you must go with me. I have wanted for some time to have a good, long, quiet talk with you. I'm interested in your career, and I think we both are interested in—in—some one else. Will you do me the honor?"

"Thank you. I have another engagement, but I'll break it."

Don't Talk.

Just do a thing and don't talk about it. This is the great secret of success in all enterprises. Talk means discussion; discussion means irritation; irritation means opposition; and opposition means hindrance always, whether you are right or wrong.—Sarah Grand.

Believes This will "Cure Lung Troubles"

Consumption is a flattering disease—that is one of its chief dangers. Those who have it are rarely willing to acknowledge the fact.

If this trouble is present, it is no time for trifling. It is a time for argument. If a so-called "cure" has long resisted, if a cough is present that keeps you anxious or any of the symptoms are present such as fever or night sweats, weakness and loss of appetite, and perhaps some raising of mucus—do the sensible thing; take Eckman's Alternative, as Mr. Betterworth did.

Bowling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.
"Gentlemen: I wish to say for your Alterative that I believe it to be a medicine of unequalled value for all Bronchial and Lung trouble."

"The Spring of 1908, I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my friends and doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit up every night until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But last, James Deering, of Glasgow Junction, insisted that I try your medicine, which I ordered at once and began taking the same. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I never wrote any firm or company a letter recommending their medicine before, as there are so many fakes that a medicine of genuine quality don't get credit or even tried."

"I desire the world to know that I firmly believe that your Eckman's Alternative will cure any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage. I will gladly write personally to any party wanting information in regard to your wonderful medicine." (Signed) Affinity.

A. C. BETTERWORTH.
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. How a Man's Tastes in Raiment Differ From Youth to Career—less Old Age.

It is interesting to follow a man in the matter of his raiment. There are established periods in his life where in his tastes differ, and his ways differ, and from start to finish the matter is one of considerable interest.

When he is under age and at college, his taste runs riot in the matter of clothing. Weird checks, fearful plaids, remarkable cuts of balloon-like pants and box-like coats appeal to him. The matter of a quarter inch in length of a coat concerns him greatly, and he begins to have his pants pressed with four creases in them, pointing to the north, south, east and west.

When he goes to work he carries some of this wonderful raiment with him. It is a link that connects him with glad college days. But the link wears out, and he is busy, and presently you see him in wholly different attire. He is neat enough, but his weird taste has changed.

He now goes in for business suits and is painfully exact in his dress for the evening.

But as he gets along in business he ceases to have his clothing pressed. He marries and his wife keeps after him to put on a clean collar. He has long ceased to wear shoes for looks and has his shoes made to order because he likes 'em to be 4 17-18 inches wide at the toe in order to obtain comfort. He has them shined whenever any event comes along and reminds him of it.

And finally his whole family leap upon him. They call him slouchy, and when he gets a new suit it is a family matter in which the individual views of the family combine, and his own are lost. For it's always that way, and probably always will be.—Galveston News.

NOT A SUBJECT FOR PITY

Little Boss of the School Made Careful Inquiry and Then Acted Promptly.

A suburban youngster who has long been the boss of his neighborhood has been attending, temporarily, a school connected with an orphanage. Very nearly all the pupils are dependents.

The school has a dozen bright red chairs which are greatly fancied by the boys, and there is either a general scramble for them or else the boys who live in the asylum are in them first.

This particular outsider was not to be denied when all the chairs were filled, and with his superior strength and courage would dump one of the occupants before the teacher arrived. Her attention was called to this and the small bully was told that he should have a feeling of pity for the unfortunate.

The next day he found all the chairs filled, one by a new pupil. He went to him and said:

"Have you a home?"

"Yes."

"A good home?"

"Yes."

"Father and mother?"

"Yes."

"Have you always had a father and mother?"

"Yes."

"Well, get out of my chair," and the intruder was hurled against the wall.—Chicago Evening Post.

Death the Great Democrat.

"The man willing to die becomes the master of the world. This is an overture of universal emancipation; it excludes no one. The beginning of liberty is the discovery of the beauty of death and the infinite succor of death. There can be no freedom among men who are afraid to die; and a people to whom success is necessary cannot build a city that is great. The cities of the world—New York, London, Paris—are provincial; we have yet to build a metropolis—a city of the soul—a city whose citizens are not afraid of death—a capital of democracy. Death is the revealer of the soul; therefore death is the great democrat."—Charles Ferguson.

What He Was Thinking About.

A grandfather of a South Ph. adolescent home walked into the sitting room and found his grandson in deep thought.

"John," he said, "I will give you a nickel if you will tell me what you are thinking about."

No effect was produced on the grandson at all.

"I say, John, I will give you a quarter if you will tell me," said the grandfather.

With that remark the grandson jumped up and demanded the money. Such was readily turned over to him. "I was thinking, grandpa," he said, "how I could earn some money with my working for it."

Kansas Revival of a Wet Old Jest.

A show at the opera house in Barnes. The villain was trying with might and main to force a drink of liquor down the throat of the hero, who resolutely refused it. A small boy in the audience yelled, "Give it to my pa; he'll drink it."—Greenleaf Sentinel.

His Was Laziness.

When an Indian candidate for the ministry was asked to define original sin, he said he didn't know what other people's might be, but he felt sure his was laziness.

Counted Ants for Two Years.

A marvel of scientific research, says our Berlin correspondent, has been accomplished by Professor Young, who has been investigating the interior condition of anthills. By dint of patient observation Professor Young discovered that an anthill two feet in height was inhabited by 93,780 ants. Other anthills of almost the same size were found to contain 67,500, 58,000 and 48,000 ants respectively. These observations and the counting of the tiny insects occupied two years.—London Evening Standard.

Training to Blame.

The injustice in the case of a girl sixteen or eighteen years of age who cannot earn money enough to support her in decency lies not always in the insufficient wage, but in the fact that she has not been trained in the arts of self-support.—Christian Register.

100 YEARS A CHURCH

First Disciple Place of Worship to Observe
Centennial

For some time the West Middletown Christian congregation and Elder A. C. Jones have been planning to observe the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Brush Run congregation, the first of the brotherhood of the Christian church in America says the Claysville Recorder. They had the promise of Hon. Champ Clark to deliver an address on that occasion but it was postponed to a date and as it is growing late for open air events the observance was this week postponed until next June or July. It is desired to hold the exercises on or near the site of the old church, near the Farrar school house. Timbers from the old building were taken to Bethany recently and it will be rebuilt on the Campbell grounds.

The site of Brush Run church was selected on the farm of Wm. Gilchrist in the fall of 1810. The location was on Brush Run, about two miles above its junction with Buffalo creek. The church building was erected in the spring of 1811, and the opening discourse was delivered by Alexander Campbell, June 16, of the same year. His text was from Gal. 1:4, "Who gave himself for our sin, that He might deliver us from this present evil world." The congregation was organized May 4th, 1811, in the new building. Thomas Campbell was appointed elder, Alexander Campbell was set apart as pastor of the gospel. John Dawson, George Sharp, Wm. Gilchrist and James Foster were chosen as deacons.

Those who composed Brush Run church were Thomas Campbell, Alexander Campbell, Mrs. Jane Campbell and daughter, Dorothea; James Foster and wife, John Dawson and wife, Thomas Hadgens, Sr., and wife and his son, James Hadgens; James Hadden and wife, Wm. Gilchrist's mother; George Sharp, Sr. and wife and son, John; Thomas Sharp, Mrs. George Sharp, Jr.; George Archer and wife, Abraham Alters, Margaret Fullerton, Joseph Bryant and John Donaldson.

About the same time congregations were formed at Hickory and Cross Roads. The Campbells continued to minister to these and plant other churches in new fields. Alexander Campbell was ordained "to the work of the Holy Ministry" January 1, 1812. In 1813 James Foster was ordained as elder in Brush Run congregation and aided in the instruction of the church. With this beginning the movement has spread and now there are about 1,500,000 communicants in America.

DUVALL TO RUN FOR COUNCILMAN

D. R. Duvall announces in this issue among the announcements for borough officials that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for council for four years at the coming primary. Mr. Duvall is one of Charleroi's leading hardware dealers, and is a man of sound business judgment and is possessed of good executive ability. He is a large property holder and a prime mover and supported in all that works for the advancement and progress of Charleroi. He is thoroughly conversant with the business needs of the town, and his mental poise and business ability would make him a strong man on the councilmanic board. These are some of the qualifications he possesses, which with his well known business integrity gives him a strong claim for the voters to consider at the polls.

Supporting Worthy Acts.
In this day when the search light of publicity is turned on the acts of public officials we are likely to see the evil things and pass over the worthy ones. This is the general tendency. The people do the same thing. They criticize those who do not represent them but fail oftentimes to give encouragement or to stand back of those who perform real public service. Vote for Bowers for Treasurer.

Fell From Scaffold.
Wm. Cross of McKeesport met with a painful accident Monday by falling from a scaffold at the Ninth street school house where some repairs were in progress. His injuries, which were not of a serious nature, were attended by Drs. Bender and Cartwright.

TABLETS TO MARK HISTORICAL SPOTS

Fayette Historical Society
Looking After Pre-Revolutionary Sites

Five more tablets to mark historical spots are to be erected in Fayette county by the old Fort Necessity celebration committee of 1904, and W. T. Kennedy of Uniontown has received the bill of lading for these tablets which have been shipped from Gettysburg by the manufacturer, Calvin Gilbert, who makes tablets for the government. The tablets and posts weigh 270 pounds each. One tablet will mark the site of Fort McCoy and will be taken in charge by the Uniontown County Club and erected on their grounds.

Another tablet will mark Fort Van Swearingen on the Ben Ramsey farm near Point Marion and a committee from Springhill township will place it. Fort Mason at Masontown will be marked by a tablet to be placed by a committee consisting of Dr. G. W. Neff, Alex. Mack and Squire William Sangston.

Tablets will also mark Fort Craft on the Slocum farm near Brownsville and Fort Crable near South Brownsville. These will be taken in charge of the committee of the Eighty-fifth Regiment whose reunion was held Thursday and Friday at Brownsville, and will be erected this week with appropriate exercises. It is probable that exercises will also be held at the erection of all the other tablets in the county.

PUBLIC DEBATE ON SOCIALISM

Advocate Will Contend That
It Alone Can Prevent
Crime

An event of much interest to many in this community is the forthcoming debate between former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan of Charleroi and Leroy Bruce of Allentown on the topic, "Resolved that Socialism is the Only Method to Prevent Crime." This takes place at the Coyle Theatre on Sunday, September 24 at 2:30 p. m. Mr. Bruce takes the affirmative and Mr. Callaghan the negative.

The debate is the result of a challenge by Mr. Callaghan, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff to the chairmen of the different political parties to debate the subject, "What is the best method to prevent crime?" None of these responded, but Mr. Bruce accepted the challenge on the subject that Socialism is the only remedy. Mr. Callaghan accepted and the debate will be held Sunday at the Coyle Theatre as stated.
